

“Working with Habif, Arogeti & Wynne is like dealing with a good friend. They’re easy to reach. They’re proactive with their advice. And they give consistent, trustworthy service. With our previous national accounting firm, we sometimes felt like strangers.”

—Noah Long, President and CEO,
Rosser International, Inc., Atlanta

Consider yourself special.

Consider the accounting firm that gives you service like a trusted friend and skillful expertise: Habif, Arogeti & Wynne.

HA&W is considerably different. Small enough to give personalized attention and maintain face-to-face relationships, we’re also large enough to offer premier talent in a broad range of specialties. We focus on the particular needs of privately held, mid-market companies. We’re the largest independent accounting firm in Georgia, and the scope of our tax, auditing and consulting practices continues to grow. How can you get the attention you deserve from a leading accounting firm? Call HA&W and consider it done.
